 @OwdNellsTavern

The cricket season is over and the English strawberries are finished, the mornings now come with a chill. In the evening the welcome crackle of the log burner adds to the ambiance of the Tavern along with the cheers from the domino table and dart board...

On those clear chilly afternoons after a good day in the field, there is a distinct suspicion of Autumn's grip tightening. The evening brings a promise of good sloe gin, roaring fires and fine home made local fayre.

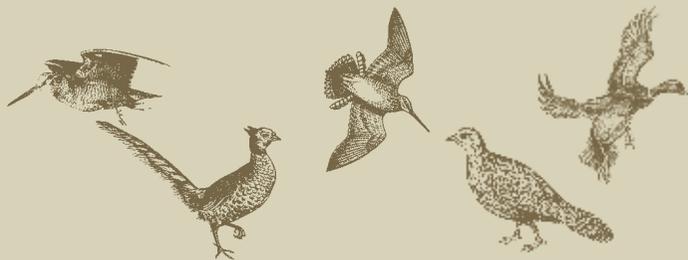

Here at Owd Nell's we are offering special Shoot Menus that would grace the finest Taverns, Restaurants and Shoot Cabins, to all local shoots this season. With a promise of a warm welcome, local home cooked fayre, a splash of some smashing Sloe Gin and of course our Famous Curried Pickled Eggs to finish.

For the rifleman, rabbit, red stag, roe buck, fallow buck and the elusive wild boar can be added to your table.

If a fish course is required the recent rains have brought local rivers into prime condition and although the Salmon season is closed other fish offer fine eating.
